

The Washington Post, an administration paper differs materially from our local Republican statesmen, who say Mr. Hanna has buried the coinage question beneath his fifteen-million-dollar campaign fund, commenting on a remark of the Baltimore American, that it seems a little strange, but this country has not heard from William Jennings Bryan for some time. Can it be that he at length realizes that the cause of free silver is dead?

The Post says: "Our Baltimore contemporary is probably aware of the fact that William Jennings Bryan is an officer in the volunteer army of the United States; that he has been in the service 'for some time now,' and that his silence on political questions, instead of indicating a belief 'that the cause of free silver is dead,' simply shows that he recognizes the proprieties of his position."

"But while nothing is heard from Col. Bryan on the silver issue, enough is heard from his intimate personal and political friends, and from some of the gold-standard advocates and organs, to make it very evident that the issue of '98 is neither defunct nor somnolent, but a wide-awake and active force in politics. The Democratic party is omitting no opportunity to reaffirm the free coinage faith, and most of these reaffirmations are accompanied by a declaration of loyalty to the old leader. Even in States where the regular Democrats are in a hopeless minority and where, by uniting the factions, they might have a good chance to win in the pending campaigns, they stand squarely and boldly by 18 to 1.

"The simple truth is that the coinage question is the only national issue now in sight for the next Presidential campaign. The hope that the war of '98 would develop some great issue that would displace the currency question and prevent another battle of the standards has vanished. Disputes or scandals touching the business management of the war cannot become national issues. They may be exploited with some effect in the State and congressional campaigns of this year, but they will not divide parties nor influence votes in 1900. All the old issues except silver have been sent to the rear. That exception stays at the front. The Boston Advertiser, referring to those who hold, with the Baltimore American, that 'the cause of silver is dead,' says: 'The notion that nothing will be said about free silver in the National Democratic platform of 1900 comes in part from the idea that by ignoring this topic the party can be reunited. But it cannot. The number of Democratic voters who would be repelled by such means is very much larger than the number who might possibly be won back in that way.'

"That is the truth. The gold faction of the Democracy has capital and newspapers quite out of proportion to its voting strength. The States which regularly and reliably put up Democratic majorities are for free coinage first, last, and all the time. The States that are usually in the doubtful column, but which went Republican in '96, could not be captured by the Democrats if that party, in the absence of any other great, dominating, inspiring issue, should drop the only vital tenet out of its creed.

"While Col. Bryan is attending to his military duties in camp we find his cause marching on in the columns of the New York evening Post. That paper calls on the President to remove a member of his cabinet in order to avert the 'terrible national misfortune' of a Bryanite majority in the next House. That is a possibility of the pending campaign. But if the next Congress should be Democratic both Houses the finances of the nation could not be shaken. Free coinage bills might go through the House and Senate, but they could not get into the statute books. The result, however, would be an intensified fight in 1900 on the issue of '96.

"The Post would be glad to join the Baltimore American in attending the free silver obsequies, but it cannot lend its voice to the chorus that is sounding a dirge over a live and very much animated subject. The opponents of free coinage would make a better use of their faculties in trying to defeat that cause, than they can in prematurely celebrating its death."

The "Middle of the Road" Populists have nominated Wharton Barker, a Philadelphia banker for President, and Ignatius Donnelly of Minnesota for Vice President. This is supposed to be a case of the "first shall be last." It is evident that Mr. Hanna is not contributing to the support of the "Middle of the Road" leaders at present. Their work at Cincinnati indicates that he is done with them.

CAPTAIN DREYFUS, of the French army was convicted of treason and sentenced for life to Devil's Island, a French penal colony. Now it is shown that Captain Dreyfus was convicted on forged testimony, and the forger, stricken by remorse, committed suicide. Now the French Government has ordered a new trial for Captain Dreyfus, and it is believed that he will be acquitted.

CARE OF THE FEET:
A Medical Journal Says it Demands Special Attention.
The care of the feet may not be a very attractive subject, but in view of the prominence into which it has been drawn in connection with the efficiency of the army in the field, a medical journal deems it so important as to demand the special attention of the profession. One of the great difficulties in army campaigning is to keep the soldier's foot in a condition to stand the severest strain of marching. The hot, steamy foot is much more likely than the firm, but dry, foot to become sore, partly from mechanical causes connected with the sudden condition of its protective covering of epidermis, and partly from the fact that in such cases the skin, the stockings and the boots themselves become so highly charged with micro-organisms that the slightest abrasion quickly becomes a sore. Among the remedies which have been found serviceable are salt and water, vinegar, spirits of wine; washing the feet and the shoes with perchloride of mercury, using carbolic lotions, and dusting the feet, stockings and shoes freely with boracic acid powder. The fasspulver of the German army, which consists chiefly of salicylic acid and chromic acid, has a double action, hardening the epidermis and probably checking perspiration, as well as operating as a germicide. An excellent odorless powder for the same purpose is tannin, a compound of formaldehyde with tannin. For keeping the feet in a wholesome condition, formalin, also, is highly commended; either as a two per cent solution for daily washing out the inside of the shoe, which is carefully dried afterward, or undiluted for application to the feet a few times at intervals of six hours. A few drops of the fluid are dropped into the shoes at the same time. This is said to prevent soreness and blistering, and other inconveniences for two or three weeks. While these methods are prescribed for the exceptional conditions of campaigning, they can be used with advantage in ordinary life. In connection with this, it may be well to note that one of the points insisted on by "complexion" doctors is scrupulous cleanliness of the feet and a daily change of footwear.

THE DEMOCRATS.

The State Convention Meets and Effects Temporary Organization.

The Democratic State Convention was called to order at Clough & Crosby's hall at 12:30 p. m. yesterday by Hon. J. R. Ryan, Chairman of the State Central Committee. Something over fifty delegates answered to their names and while the delegates carried a good many proxies, there were a good many active Democrats who had obtained proxies and were taking a lively interest in the deliberations.

P. O. (Boss) Webber of White Pine was elected temporary chairman, Frank M. Ish of Elko temporary secretary and B. Campbell of Reno assistant. C. P. Cross of Reno, sergeant-at-arms.

It was decided to appoint seven members on the Committee on Credentials, five on Committee on Permanent Organization, and seven on Platform and Resolutions and an adjournment was taken till 3 o'clock to give the chairman opportunity to make up the committees.

It was proposed to name a Committee on Conference in case it should be decided to confer with the Silver Party Convention in regard to fusion, but action was postponed until later, or until the meeting of the latter convention.

At 3 o'clock the convention was again called to order and Chairman Webber announced the following committees: Credentials—Ryan of Storey, Dooley of Lincoln, Lynch of Washoe, Grimes of Churchill, Triplett of Elko, Angell of Lyon and Heidenrich of Ormsby. Permanent Organization—Russell of Elko, Holmes of Storey, Likes of Churchill, Denton of Lincoln and Wagner of Ormsby. Platform and Resolutions—Dennis of Washoe, Parsons of Elko, Belknap of Storey, Newham of Ormsby, Reipe of White Pine, Silva of Churchill, Warren of Humboldt.

Married at Ogden.

The Ogden Standard of August 30th announces the marriage of Edwin E. Caine, Principal of the Wadsworth school, to Miss Mae E. Griffin of Ogden. The wedding took place at high noon of August 30th at the Church of St. Joseph, Rev. P. M. Oushnahan officiating. H. H. Forney of Sacramento acted as groomsmen and Miss Emma Griffin, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. The wedding was a quiet affair owing to the enforced absence of the groom's parents on account of the illness of his father. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, and the young couple left for Salt Lake City.

Mr. Caine is so well known in Reno that it is unnecessary for the JOURNAL to speak of his excellent qualities. He has grown up in Reno and graduated at the University. For some time he has been engaged in educational work, having successfully taught at Verdi and for the past year occupied the Principalship of the Wadsworth school. The fact that the Trustees of that district retained his services for the next school year demonstrates that he has given perfect satisfaction.

Mrs. Caine is also an educator, having taught for sometime in the Ogden schools. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin and formerly lived at Wadsworth. Mr. Griffin being Roadmaster on the Southern Pacific. The many friends of the young couple will wish them much happiness and the JOURNAL heartily joins in the good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Caine will be at home in Wadsworth after to-day.

The "Gazette" Man in Mourning.

Allen O. Bragg of the Gazette appeared in the Democratic Convention yesterday with a large band of black crepe on his left arm. His face presented rather a doleful look and various expressions of sympathy were tendered him. For a while he endeavored to look wise but finally blurted out "watnells the matter with you fellows? There's nothing the matter with me." At this juncture a friend took hold of the crepe and asked Allen what the badge of mourning meant on his arm. Another friend suggested that the editor of the Gazette was in mourning for the Republican party in Nevada. Bragg looked at the crepe and then roughly tore it from his arm and the brief oration he delivered to the Democrats standing near him, would not have found favor at an evening reception or church gathering.

Terrible Accident.

A miner by the name of William McArthur, while loading a hole with dynamite, in tunnel No. 4 of the Murphy-Orioux mine on Bull Run Mountain, Sunday noon, accidentally caused the charge to explode, blowing both eyes out, breaking his jaw, and seriously injuring him about the breast. Dr. Drake was summoned and at last reports McArthur was still alive, but was not expected to recover.—Elko Independent.

Bees Cause Destruction of Cattle.

The entire herd of famous shorthorn cattle, belonging to the Hon. John McKeegan of Bancroft, Neb., was totally destroyed by a peculiar accident. While grazing on a high bluff overlooking the Missouri river, they were suddenly attacked by several swarms of wild bees, which occupy the trees on the bluff. In their terror and pain the whole herd numbering 300 head, jumped off the bluff and were dashed to pieces on the rocks or drowned in the river.

Colonel Marzen, Joseph Hill, Peter Anker, and Hiram Stoker, T. J. Bradshaw, Rube Battles, W. D. Morey, M. Reinhardt, W. J. Bell, James Hurst, G. W. Summerfield, and G. S. Nixon, arrived from Humboldt last night.

A CARD FROM MR. LEETE.

Trump Politics.

To the people of the State of Nevada, delegates in nominating conventions and candidates for the Senate and Assembly:

This morning a letter appears in the DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL, recommending the election of Wm. M. Stewart to the Senate of the United States, addressed to Reinhold Sadler, Governor of Nevada, purporting to have been written by Stephen M. White of Los Angeles, California. Also previous letters of like character have appeared in the same and other papers in the State, purporting to have been written respectively by prominent citizens of Illinois, Colorado and Pennsylvania.

It is now asserted that the text of those letters was prepared in Carson City and given out for publication.

Assuming that those letters originated from the persons over whose signatures they appear, I submit that the whole scheme is an insult to the Statehood of the State of Nevada and to the intelligence and American manhood of every inhabitant of the State. It appears that Mr. Stewart is better known in other States than he is in this State.

The personnel of the Senate of the United States is based on Statehood representation, to consist of two members respectively, inhabitants of the individual States they represent.

If the insult goes unchallenged that the inhabitants of the State of Nevada do not possess the needed intelligence and patriotism to enable them to select a Senator of the United States in pursuance of the fundamental doctrines of the constitution of the United States from the bona fide inhabitants, then for a like reason should they select a State ticket from the inhabitants of other States, for example, a Governor from Rhode Island, Lieutenant Governor from Michigan, Justice of the Supreme Court from Maine, Secretary of State from Minnesota, State Treasurer from Virginia, State Controller from Oregon, Surveyor General from Illinois, Superintendent of Public Instruction from Alabama, Board of Regents of University of Nevada from South Carolina, five District Judges from Ohio, State Central Committee from Indiana.

To elect representatives, State and National, from the inhabitants of a State is a function of Statehood.

If the State of Nevada is incapable of selecting such representatives from her bona fide inhabitants, then that fact raises very seriously the question, is Nevada a State?

If you wish to know about me ask my neighbors.

Your obedient servant,

B. F. LEETE.

The Fire Bell.

The clanging of the fire bell at 7 o'clock yesterday morning startled a good many late sleepers from their beds, believing the political situation had boiled over and the fat had gotten into the fire and was in full blaze. The occasion of the alarm was a blaze in the coal bin on the south side of the N.O.O. office building, supposed to have caught from a furnace. There was no serious damage outside of a partial destruction of the roof. The fire department acted promptly and effectively.
